

Eli Vakil, PhD

Professor and former departmental chairman in the Department of Psychology and the head of the Memory and Amnesia lab at the Gonda (Goldschmied) Multidisciplinary Brain Research Center at Bar Ilan University.

He received his PhD in Clinical Neuropsychology from the City University of New York in 1985 and started his career as a clinical neuropsychologist working in rehabilitation with patients who sustained severe traumatic brain injuries. He worked at the Head Trauma Program at the Institute of Rehabilitation Medicine in NYU Medical Center, and in the Rekanati National Institute for the Rehabilitation of the Head-Injured Person in Israel. Professor Vakil is currently the head of the Rehabilitation Center for Veterans After Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI) in Jaffa.

Professor Vakil has served as the chairman of the section of Rehabilitation Psychology in the Israeli Psychological Association and as the head of the Rehabilitation Psychology subprogram at Bar-Ilan University. He is a founding member of the Israeli Neuropsychological Society and has served as a board member of the International Neuropsychological Society (INS). Professor Vakil has served as an associate editor of the Journal of the International Neuropsychological Society (JINS). He has published extensively in the area of memory and memory disorders in various populations, such as traumatic brain injury patients, Parkinson's disease patients, and the elderly.